Subject: CTL thanks Colonial!

Hi, Caroline!

Lyndsay Hoover here with the Center for Transforming Lives. I'm just writing to thank you again for Colonial Bank's lovely donation to CTL's Economic Mobility services program in May (and our housing programs, as well!).

Your support underwrote the services like those necessary to get Jeaneth, a young mother struggling in poverty, into financial independence. Jeaneth recently graduated from CTL's programs and she wanted to share her story with all the people who made her journey from poverty to financial independence possible. (You!)

We have produced a very short (2.5 minute) video showcasing a Jeaneth, a recent graduate of CTL's Economic Mobility Program. <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=9MNBxDnjIRI&t=2s> It is moving and inspirational to see how women in poverty can move toward financial independence with just a little financial knowledge and support.

Also, making sure you knew that CTL just launched a new, and much improved, website with a section dedicated to Economic Mobility programming. <https://transforminglives.org/Economic-Mobility>

I hope you have time to take a peek. Happy summer!!
